

Week 34: May 5, 2023

This week we were able to successfully get most of our Spring NWEA/MAP testing completed. Students were able to see their scores and determine if they made their anticipated growth and achieved their math and reading goals from Fall to Spring. This testing round will be closing at the end of this month and we will be reviewing student scores for growth! Students who haven't completed their tests will be doing so before the end of the month!

Help us celebrate our amazing Teachers & Staff next week! Students are invited to show their appreciation by participating in our SPIRIT WEEK! Thank you to our wonderful teachers & staff for all they do daily to make CMMS a wonderful place to learn & work!

In May, We Are Reflective!

Students who are REFLECTIVE know what they are good at and what they're not. They try to think about these things, and they make changes where they can. They give thoughtful consideration to their own learning and consider their personal strengths and weaknesses in a constructive manner.

How can parents help to develop students who are Reflective at home?

- Spend some time reviewing your child's report card with them. They should have the opportunity to look at this document and consider it as well. Discuss it with them and truly consider their thoughts on their strengths and areas for improvement.
  - Consider the goals that your child could set for the next term. Make a list not only of the goals, but of specific actions that can be taken to achieve these goals. You might want to list action that your child will take independently as well as action parents will take to support them. For example, if one of the goals your child sets for herself is to improve her writing, her action might be to keep a journal and write in it for at least 10 minutes each night.
- As a parent, you might decide that the two of you will participate in shared writing, for 30 minutes each week and produce a book of narratives together.
- Consider your child's MAP progress. Compare the scores from the beginning of the year to the spring score. Consider reasons why the scores are where they are.

#GoWarriors

In the 6th & 7th Grade Instructional Design Technology class students completed their unit by making and testing different types of parachutes. They learned that both shape and weight affect how a parachute falls. They worked together to design large parachutes using various boxes and containers. They did a great job! Then each designed their own parachute using a variety of materials. Thank you to Mrs. Schroeder for sharing their wonderful work. They were amazing!

Please fill out the screening request form available on the school website elc.cm20lu.org or call the Crete-Monee Early Learning Center at 708-367-2770 for more information

Por favor, rellene el formulario de solicitud de evaluación disponible en el sitio web de la escuela elc.cm20lu.org
